wards Being Sea—Other Birdmen Ready For 878
Mile Hop-Off Today.

(By The Associated Press.)
CORDOVA, Alaska, May 5.—A trapper living on an island in the middle of Lake Chignik, saw an airplane, believed to be that of Major Frederick L. Martin, missing commander of the American world flight squadron, passing over the lake about 400 yards from the shore last week,
according to advices from the coast guard cutter Algonquin at Chignik.

A second party of two natives left Chignik for Bering Sea Saturday noon and have not been heard from, the message also states.

The Algonquin will remain at Chignik until Wednesday next awaiting the return of the natives.

Lake Chignik is about sixty miles almost directly west of Chignik and the territory over which the natives
will search is on the Alaska peninsula
northwest of Chignik and in the direction in which the trapper report indicates the plane he saw was traveling.

In the meantime the planes Chicago, New Orleans and Boston at Alaska island were preparing to hop off today for Chicago, Attu Island, a distance of 530 miles. Upon reaching Attu Island, final preparations will be made for the longest flight of the entire 27,000 miles trip, a jump of 878
miles to Shamushu Island, in the Ku-rile group near Japan.

EVERY BAY SEARCHED
(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Lieut.
Clayton L. Bissell, advance officer of the army's around the world flight squadron, advised the war department
today that "every bay on South side of Alaska has been searched and no word of Major F. L. Martin." The flight commander who has been missing since April 23.

Dog teams are proceeding to Black Lake from Unalakleet and from there to Ungashuk while other searching parties are proceeding directly across mountains from Chignik to Portage cutter Haida has been ordered to search Harbor to the westward with the three airplanes, which are continuing the flight under command of Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith.

The cutter Algonquin will remain in the vicinity of Unalakleet from which the search for Major Martin will be directed.

Lieutenant Bissell recommended that the cutter Haida be authorized to continue with the flight as far as Tokio. The presence of the Haida, the message said, "would help chances of success and safe guard lives of personnel."

airman who set out on a lone jaunt
against the British round-the-world from Paris to Bucharest, Rumania, a 2,000-mile trip.

Freight Wreck Near Chatham Delays Traffic

Traffic schedules on the main line of the Southern Railway were disorganized for several hours on Sunday
on account of a freight derailment,
which took place three miles South of Chatham when fourteen box cars
took to the toes, tearing up the track and piling debris on both main arteries of the system.

No personal injuries attended this derailment, one of the worst in this section.

Extra freight No. 5215 was speeding north when a truck under one of the box cars broke and a falling arch
bar caused the car to leave the track, taking thirteen others behind it. Der-ails and crews were sent from Monroe and Danville and no time was lost in clearing the right of way in order to let main line trains through.

It was necessary, however, to detour
by way of Burkeville and Richmond,
the first and second of train No. 32, 38, 31, 33, and 37. The southbound train was clear at ten o'clock Sunday morning and the northbound train reopened to traffic at 1 P. M. after a good deal of the track had been rebuilt. Engineer Rieves was piloting the freight.

At 3:10 o'clock Sunday afternoon a minor derailment took place on the Richmond division near Keyville.
Richmond engine No. 1105 left the track. Trains No. 14 and 19 were held up for two hours while a Richmond crew cleared the track.

at Forsyth, Ga.

RAIN MAKER AND RADIO FANS HAVING SQUABBLE

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
SAFETY, 1924, by The Bee.)
The quarter of a million radio fans and the thirty thousand farmers in this vicinity are engaged in an argument debate today over the question of which is most important—radio communication or rain.

William J. Colman, who claims process as a "rain-maker," is the bone of contention.

Colman recently pointed with pride to a couple of hundred showers which followed his radio work in his agitation of the other with his electrical "rain-making" apparatus. As a result, he has several contracts from farmers along the San Juan river peninsula to produce moisture to save their crops.

One of his machines is located 40
miles and the other at San Jose, 30 miles away. Every day he points the machines towards each other and turns
on the juice. This, he says, will effectively change and cause rain to fall.

The radio fans, however, contend that the only thing Colman is producing is static, which is knocking all the fun out of the owning of a radio receiving set in this part of the world.

ASSAULT STIRS MARTINSVILLE

DENIES THERE IS A SHORTAGE OF WATER POWER

Witness Testifies Muscle
Shoals Represents Only
Small Part of Resources

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—W. G.
Waldo, engineer of the Tennessee River Improvement Association, resumed his testimony at today's hearing of the Senate Agriculture Committee in support of Henry Ford's bid, said there is no shortage of industrial water power in the Southeast and declared Muscle Shoals represent only a small part of the power resources of the section.

Reiterating his contention that Muscle Shoals be used primarily for fertilizer manufacture and not power distribution, he said decision should first be reached as to what use should be made of the property.

"Under the Ford offer the power at Muscle Shoals will be employed primarily in the public interest and primarily under public control," the engineer said.

"The record shows that nitrogen fertilizers can be supplied to the farmer at 5 cents per pound of ammonia instead of 20 cent to 25 cents now paid and that half price fertilizer is a very reasonable expectation under the Ford offer," Waldo said.

He declared the useful continuous power available at Muscle Shoals
would be only 241,000 horse power after both dams numbers 2 and 3 have been completed and that storage dams
in the upper Tennessee River and tributaries would add only 121,000 horse power.

Ford's obligations to produce fertilizer will require improvement of some of the irregular and unreliable power, he said.

Since profit on fertilizer is limited to 8 per cent he said, "it follows that the Muscle Shoals Power will be employed primarily in the public interest and primarily under public control."

"As long as the state utility commission agree as to the rate to be charged for the power, the Federal government has no basis for interference," he added. He contended Ford would not clear title to the property and that "the government is not selling $85,000,000 worth of property for $5,000,000," because "the property has no such value."

WONT REVIEW VA.
SMUGGLING CASE

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—The Supreme court announced today it would not review the case involving the question of whether evidence of violation of the immigration laws, discovered by prohibition agents while searching an automobile truck without a search warrant, can be used.

The question was raised in a case brought by Louis Miller, an interstate trader, who was convicted in Virginia
of aiding in the smuggling in of Chinese.

TOWN TOPICS

The State Corporation Commission
has granted a charter to Williamson Spencer Inc. of this city which is authorized to engage in a general leaf tobacco business with offices permanently located in Danville. The maximum amount of capital stock is $100, 000 and the minimum amount of stock is also $100,000, according to the charter papers. T. S. Williamson is president, William C. Spencer is vice-president, W. W. Williamson is secretary and C. E. Williamson, treasurer. These gentlemen also compose the board of directors. All of these gentlemen are well known in Danville
having been in the tobacco business
for many years.

The Patton street fire apparatus
was twice called on Sunday to a grass fire on the property of Douthat Riddle Company on Lower Linn street.
The first call came at 11:30 and the second just one hour later. No damage was done.

A Maxwell car belonging to J. C.
Rodgers was stolen from its parked position opposite the O. & Filling station at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night
but was recovered within two hours
by the police abandoned on River street. Mr. Rodgers was shopping and was absent from the city at the time. The police on being notified took up energetically search for the machine and it was located by Sergeant H. T. Haraway and Officers
L. O. Belton, Ira Harris and L. O.
Belton. It was found to be unimurdered.

No trace has been found of the thief who rifled the pouch of first class mail which was stolen from the Southern Railway platform on Friday night. Postoffice Inspector Collier leaves today for Washington, where he will file a report. It now develops that within four months half a dozen mail robberies have been reported in the Washington section.
A good deal of parcel post material having been stolen. It also develops that on occasion pouches containing currency in amounts ranging from $50.00 to $100.00 are allowed to be mailed, he said.

Since the station platform is being susceptible to theft as was the mail pouch in Friday's instance these facts are to be presented to the post office department in Washington with renewed urgency in the hope that two transfer clerks may be assigned to Danville giving the United States mails adequate protection.

Monthly meetings of the three city council committees will be held this week to prepare reports to be submitted to the next regular monthly meeting which will be held next Monday night. The calendar date for the council meeting this month falls on Saturday night but a meeting of the council provide that when the tenth day of the month falls on Saturday or Sunday the meeting shall be held on the following Monday. A report will be presented from the Police and Fire departments regarding the paying of Craghead street also probably the illumination of that street by handsome electric standards similar to those on Main street.

Efforts are being made by various organizations in Danville to secure for Danville the 1925 annual meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star which will convene on Friday at Alexandria.
A local chapter is being organized and the committee on the part of the city has been asked to write letters of invitation without further delay.

The Chamber of Commerce Good Roads Committee has another report to make to the city council.
The report will be made by Mr. W. A.
Trinkle, chairman of the committee.

TESTIFIES HOW LIQUOR HOUSE EVADED LAW

Dissolved and Distributed Whisky Among Citizens
Who Bought Stock.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Legal steps
by which the Grimes and Ulrich company a Chicago liquor house, distributed 3,000 cases of high grade intoxicants among its stockholders and escaped penalties under the Volstead act were described today in the Senate Daugherty investigation.

Charles A. Williams, attorney for the concern, explained the plan by which the corporation was dissolved and its assets of whiskey, wines and cordials turned over to 130 Chicago ci-zens who bought out the eight or ten original stockholders.

Though the prohibition enforcement unit has instituted prosecution against officials who issued the permits, Williams insisted that the transaction was entirely legal.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, committee prosecutor, tried in-vain to get the witness to admit that the 130 "knew they bought stock but were going to get whiskey."

"These people knew they were doing something entirely legal," Williams said. "They knew the company's assets were entirely liquor. I haven't the psychological insight to know their reasons."

ing Republican on the naval committee and Representative Rogers, Reptained.

FEDERAL AGENT CHARGED WITH BRUTAL ATTACK

Witness Tells of Cowardly Attack Made on Harry Warren by Prohibition Officer James Riddle—Trial Put Off Until Tomorrow.

(Special To The Bee.)
MARTINSVILLE, Va., May 5.—The preliminary trial of Federal Prohibition Officer James Riddle, of Greensboro, N. C., charged with making a cowardly and brutal attack on Harry Warren, a youth of good reputation of this place at midnight last Friday has been postponed until tomorrow. Riddle let it be known that he was ready for trial, but he is under $3,000 bond to be here in the morning when Magistrate Shelton will hear evidence on a State warrant alleging felonious assault.

The indignation which betrayed itself in Martinsville on Saturday when the facts became generally known has not shown any abatement. Reports that Riddle is seeking to have his case removed to the jurisdiction of the federal court—a move not infrequently made when federal officers become entangled—found supporters of the Martinsville man prepared to checkmate this step. Warren, who was removed to the jurisdiction of the North Carolina federal court, and Riddle would not have to face the music
in a locality where there is marked hostility towards him as result of the story of the attack which is given by Jack Holland who was an eyewitness
to the whole proceeding.

Harry Warren, who is employed at the Acme garage, was not actually wounded when Riddle fired at him.
However, his arm is badly seared by the flame of the shell, indicating the closeness of the range at which the shot was fired. His worst injuries are scalp wounds which, according to those who have seen them, could not have been inflicted with a bare fist.

The story of the attack was told by Jack Holland in effect this. Warren had just taken the second degree of the Ythian order at a lodge meeting
Friday night when he was notified that Thomas Gregory was near Dry Fork in a broken-down car. Gregory and Carolina, Clinchfield and the necessary material for repairs and started out for the scene. They were between Smith River Bridge and Dry Fork creek when they were flagged down by an excited torch. The new thing in this section where officers, both State and federal, are working to curtail the movement of illicit liquor.

Warren stopped his car and Riddle,
who was in company with another
North Carolina federal prohibition officer, James Riddle, who was told by Jack Holland in effect this. Warren recognized him as he mounted the running board. There followed a torrent of abuse by Riddle at Warren whom he seized and dragged out of the car. Cursing him and belaboring him with a cane, he held him while he drew his revolver on him with the other. Judging from the wounds on Warren's head it would seem that he was struck also with some metal instrument.

Warren pleaded with his aggressor
to stop his hand but could not put up

DEATH OF MRS. MCKINNEY.

Mrs. Maggie A. McKinney died Sunday afternoon in the General Hospital where she was recently taken for treatment. She was the wife of J. W.
McKinney. The funeral is to be held from the home on Shepherd avenue tomorrow afternoon at an hour to be announced, interment to be made in Leemont cemetery.

BALL GAME TOMORROW.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock
the Chatham Training school baseball team will play the D. M. I. at the local institution.

DRY INSPECTOR APPEALS TO MINISTERS FOR SUPPORT

The necessity of an aroused citizenship meeting the problem caused by continued violations of the state and federal liquor laws was portrayed to the Danville Ministerial Association
this morning at its regular monthly meeting by State Prohibition Inspector W. T. Shelton who in the course of his brief speech, referred to the present situation as quite serious.

He pointed out that the officers engaged in this work cannot cope with the problem successfully unless citizens
stand behind them and show a spirit of co-operation. He presented the present situation as one which is ver-
real and one which despite the laws enacted to wipe out the liquor business shows no material improvement.
As a result of this speech the association went on record as favoring the holding of a citizenship mass meeting at the tabernacle on the third Sunday in May, for the purpose of presenting this cause and arousing people of Danville to the situation.

In connection with this, a committee of three ministers, Rev. M. S.
Taylor, chairman and Drs. Senter and Shelburne, was appointed to make an enquiry into alleged lawlessness in Pittsylvania county and to prepare a report on the matter next June. It is proposed to make a general survey of law enforcement, particularly the enforcement of the state liquor law.

Miss Margaret Maxon, executive secretary of the Community Welfare Association also appeared before the ministers this morning and expressed a desire to get the methods employed by the association to act the work before the public. It is proposed to hold a mass meeting of the South-side churches at Main street on the second Sunday in June when the whole cause of the Community Welfare Association will be presented by Miss Maxon and other speakers. The Northside churches will also be visited in this connection and the work of the association made clear.

THIRD BASEMAN JOE STRIPP IS RELEASED

Joe Stripp third baseman of the Danville baseball club was this morning given his unconditional release by owner Herb Murphy. The news will come as a sudden and disconcerting blow to the local fans of Danville
for all had practically conceded that Stripp had landed a permanent home with the Tobaccoists.

However, Manager Murphy has taken a different view of the situation. Although Stripp is promising he needs more experience at the bat
corner before he can make the grade,
in the eyes of the Danville manager,
who has been watching his work closely. Stripp is regarded as a bit unsteady yet to fill an important slot at the hot corner, but at the same time is held to be a promising around the keystone position.

CONTROVERSY ARISES OVER ASSO. ATTACKS

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 3.—Officers of the American War Mothers have issued spirited protests against the published attacks by the Mothers' Day International association on their plan to sell publicly carnation button-tornies on Saturday, May 10th, in a nation-wide observance of Mothers' Day, which falls on the Sunday following.

The Mothers' Day International association denounced the plan as a "tag day game" in which it charged that the War Mothers were being used for profits of others and declared that any one using the name Mothers' Day for solicitations, tag days or any appeal for funds of any kind should be regarded as unauthorized solicitors.

Officers of the War Mothers have protested, maintaining that the second Sunday of May has been designated by joint resolution of Congress as Mothers' Day, that is, a day of public recognition of motherhood for all, not under the control of any one organization, and denouncing the attack upon their plan as "insulting and malicious."

Funds which the War Mothers expect to gather from their sale of button-tornies, it is announced, will be used for assisting service and former service men. The observance on Saturday, May 10th, was authorized by the national executive board of the American War Mothers.

New York Physician Perfects Harmless Method of Reducing Weight

The loss of as much as a pound of excess fat a day with no harmful results is the record made by many patients of Dr. R. Newman, a licensed practicing physician of 285 Fifth Avenue, New York, who announces that he has perfected a treatment which quickly rid fat people of excess weight. What is more remarkable is the Doctor's statement that he has successfully treated thousands of patients for fat reduction without change of diet or unnecessary exercise. It is also said that fat people who suffer from chronic rheumatism, gout, asthma and high blood pressure obtain great relief from the reduction of their superfluous flesh, realizing that this sounds almost too good to be true, the Doctor has offered to send without charge to anyone who will write him, a free trial treatment to prove his claims, as well as his "Pay when reduced" plan. If you want to rid yourself of superfluous fat write him today, addressing Dr. R. Newman 285 Fifth Avenue, New York City, Dept. R—adv.

Confidence in All Others Shaken.

"Shakes Hands With 740," reads a headline over a dispatch telling all about what President Coolidge did one day.

This upholds our contention that being president is a shaky business. By comparison, the shakiness of a shimmy dancer's job is negligible. The two positions, placed side by side, would resemble a stack of gelatin and a fire plug.

After shaking hands with the voters, a president must go back in the house and shake heads with his cabinet. He must shake a leg to get his work done before bedtime. He must shake the hearts of the great American people. He must shake off the political crooks who try to cling to him.

And he must shake in his boots as he sees a crisis headed his way. So, in choosing a candidate to be boosted by Tom Sims Newspaper, we will shake well before using.

FARMER FASHIONS TRACTOR FROM CAST-OFF AUTOMOBILE

FREBONO, Cal., May 3.—From the wreck of a small obsolete automobile R. M. Bartlett, street car motor-man who also owns and cultivates a farm, has built a home-made tractor at a cost of $15. Those who have witnessed the machine's performance declare it "does the work."

The tractor is mounted on a wooden frame that Bartlett built. The gear is from a worn-out pump. It runs on the wheels of an old automobile stripped to its frame. On one set of wheels he fastened outer rims from wheels that once did duty on a mower, this pair giving him the required traction.

"Many farmers could build serviceable tractors at small cost," declares Bartlett.

Chief Woodenhead

PETER McHUGH, TOBACCONIST OF NORTHAMPTON, MASS. AND THE CIGAR INDIAN WHICH COLLECTORS ARE AFTER. AT THE RIGHT IS A COPY WOODEN MAID SOLD IN WASHINGTON, D. C. FOR $500.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. — Happy hunting grounds he ahead for the cigar store Indian. Since his mysterious disappearance some years back, it develops, he has been improving his social standing.

From his lowly place by the curbstone, the stolid comrade of a bygone day rose, first to a curio, then to a relic.

Tomorrow he will be an antique, and will take his place in a glass case at the museum from whence he can cast a coy if wooden( glance at the prim, mummified lady from an Egyptian tomb.

The day is not far off when he will belong to the very exclusive Tut-Ankh-Amen set.

The collectors are after him. They are invading the dingy back rooms of country cigar stands and waving fancy sums before the dumbfounded owners' nose.

Quite recently $500 was paid by a New York collector for a Washington (D. C.) specimen.

And here Peter McHugh, a veteran tobacconist, was offered a seemingly fabulous sum. The value of the Indian in this case was increased, however, because he had a bowing acquaintance with Calvin Coolidge at the time the president was a law student.

Time was when Big Chief would not have dreamed of aiming so high. He was the brunt of actors' jokes. He once gay garb became stained a full brown after many tobacco-chewing marksmen had tried their skill.

He became a symbol of wooden-headedness, his figure became associated with cheap brands of cigars. He seemed to have sunk as low as it is possible for a mere effigy to sink—and then Big Chief disappeared. But he did not vanish.

Many wondered where he had gone. Already were collectors were playing their prophetic trade. They saw a great future for him and that future is at hand.

The value of a good ancient, well-chipped, painless Indian ranges today from $250 up.

PRESIDENT COMMUTES GERMAN'S SENTENCE

75 PER CENT. OF SHOWS WILL BE UNION SHOPS

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 3.—Members of the Actors Equity Association virtually were assured today that approximately seventy-five per cent. of the "legitimate" theaters in New York and on the road would continue to be union shops. The assurance came last night on the failure of the producing managers association to reconsider its previous refusal to accept the actors' demand for the equity shop—an agreement that all productions containing equity players should be at least eighty per cent. equity as to cast. Directly on the heels of the stand patters refusal, the insurgent producers, headed by the powerful Shubert interests, announced that they would sign the equity demands irrespective of what the other members of the P. M. A. did.

This will be done through the Managers' Protective Association, an association organized three days ago by the insurgents, when the actors had reiterated their intention to go on strike June 1, when their existing agreement with the managers expires, if the equity shop demands were not acceded to.

They are said to control 43 and possibly 45 New York theatres and 74 per cent. of the city's total number of productions. The P. M. A. stand-patters, it is said, now have but 18 houses under their control in the city. While stronger in the matter of theatres and productions, the insurgents were numerically weaker in the P. M. A.

FIERY CROSS IS SEEN AS A WARNING TO BOOTLEGGERS

(Special to The Bee)

SOUTH BOSTON, May 5.—On last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, a spectacular fiery cross loomed up on a high hill just across the Dan River from South Boston and silhouetted itself against the blue sky above. A weird uncanny scene, ablaze with fiery darts that illuminated the hillside, and presented a grotesque scene effect that could be seen for miles around. The streets of the city were fairly teeming with a vast array of those who were curious to know from whence it came, and what it signified. Some of the more inquisitive ones in the throng finally mustered up courage enough to go out and make an investigation. When they reached the scene, they found a large wooden cross about twenty feet high, to which pieces of cloth saturated with kerosene had been fastened with strings. This had been touched off with an incandescent match, and had caused the mysterious blaze. There was no one to be found at the cross or in close proximity to it, and there is no one who knows for certain who made it and planted on the hillside where the fire broke out. Near the spot where the fire broke out, much activity in the bootlegging of moonshine whiskey has been going on recently, and it was just a short distance to the place, where Jack Cozart recently loaded up his car with fourteen quarts of Joe water, which later got him into a whole lot of trouble, and which is liable to hold him for some time to come. A notorious colored gentleman, who is an old timer in the blockade vending business, was also placed behind the bars charged with selling the forbidden fluid to Cozart. It is the opinion of many people that the cross being the emblem of the Ku Klux Klan, was placed there by some of the Knights as a warning to those who have prelated in selling illicit whiskey near the place, and that in the event the warning is not needed, then the white-robed klanmen will deal with the guilty parties in accordance with the rules and regulations of the invisible empire. Be that as it may, the cross certainly had a most profound influence upon the colored element of the city, and in a few minutes after the discovery was made, they simply vanished from the street like peaches in a hail storm, and they stayed vanished too. When a bystander requested one of them to go over and make an investigation for him, he replied: "No sah, boss, I wouldn't go over there for all de money what Uncle Sam done got de treasury."

a defense against a man who held a deadly weapon in the other hand. The beating, according to Holland's estimation, continued in the road for fully five minutes. Faddis, apparently, took no action but stood by while the cowardly attack was consummated. Finally, Holland says, and he is corroborated by Warren, Riddle told him that he was going to shoot him. A second later the pistol went off and Holland, cowering in fear, was shot in the head and fell to the road, was dead, ran to reach the nearest telephone—that of a power house, some distance away where he notified Martinsville officers that Warren had been shot and killed.

While Holland was away, Riddle and Faddis are said to have lifted Warren, bleeding and badly shocked into their car and they carried him to Martinsville where they were said to have attempted to turn the man over to the authorities as a prisoner, though no charge was entered against him. As soon as this had been done the two prohibition agents left the town but Sheriff Turner hearing the facts and instantly recognizing that some accounting had to be made, overhauled the pair and brought them back to Martinsville. News of the affair had not become disseminated widely at that early hour. In the morning and Riddle is understood to have made arrangements for a bond by long distance telephone with Greensboro, which appears to have been accepted. The amount set was three thousand dollars.

The two officers then left Martinsville and it was not until early Saturday morning that the circumstances became generally known here. Indignation mounted as word of the affair spread.

The provocation for the assault of the present time, in the absence of any formal hearing is a matter of surprise but it is well lodged in the minds of friends of Warren. Two months or more ago Warren was out driving in a Ford coupe with a girl friend. Riddle is said to have been one of two officers who fired at the tires of the car to stop it. After this episode Warren indignantly over the embarrassment and fright to which his companion had been subjected discussed the matter pretty freely and let people with whom he discussed it know how he left towards Riddle. It is assumed that some of these remarks reached Riddle's ears and last Friday, when he signalled Warren's car to stop in the promiscuous halting and examination of cars found running late over county roads seized the opportunity to even up what he considered to be an old grudge.

There is no charge against Warren whose head is bandaged today and whose arm is badly burned. The affair is ranking deeply in the minds of a number of Martinsville people who notwithstanding their personal leanings on the liquor question believe that the present instance calls for a definite and adequate punitive measure on those responsible for the outrage.

The two officers, though hailing from North Carolina had a right to operate in Virginia since they are federal agents. The same would not be true if they were state officers. The government however, in dividing up the country into enforcement districts takes no cognizance of state lines and Riddle and Faddis have the right to operate in North Carolina and in Virginia as far as Bassett. Both men are said to have been energetic in liquor hunting.

NATION WIDE STRIKE BEGUN IN ARGENTINA

Both Capital and Labor Walk Out in Protest Against New Law.

(By The Associated Press.)

BUENOS AIRES, May 5.—With both capital and labor on strike to day demanding postponement in the application of the pension law, they were confronted in the morning papers with the text of a message which President De Alvear will send to Congress clearly indicating that he intends to enforce compliance with the law but proposing a number of amendments designed to meet the objection raised to it.

The chief objections has been that the law postpones for two years establishment of a scheme of benefits, meanwhile requiring the employers and employees to contribute to the pension fund without knowing when or in what proportion the employees will get their money back. The president proposes that 30 years be fixed as the maximum of service before pensions are receivable; that employees incapacitated for work after 15 years of service be pensioned; that pension contributions be returned to foreigners leaving the country and to women employees in case of marriage; that employees earning less than 100 pesos monthly be required to contribute only 3 per cent. of their salaries instead of 5 per cent. and that contributions as insurance against unemployment and sickness be optional.

It was understood the president would hand a copy of the message to representatives of the employers who planned to assemble in front of the government house this afternoon to protest against the law enforcement.

Escapes Asylum Soon After Entry

Peter Kontoleos, who recently was adjudged insane by a commission of lunacy, escaped from the Staunton asylum last Sunday morning two hours after he had been admitted and a receipt given for his custody to Police Officer O. S. Mayberry, who took him there. Thomas Dentist also accompanied the officer on his mission. Kontoleos was agreeable all the way to Staunton, and no difficulty was experienced with him. The sight of a number of men trying to work out the fifth dimension in the institution, however, caused him to change his mind and he walked out of the main gate which happened to be open at the time. Deputies, who happened to see him go, pursued him and something of a race ensued, but Kontoleos shook off his pursuer and he had not been caught when Officer Mayberry left to return to Danville.

Coroner's Jury to Probe Death Of Hylton Seay

The coroner's jury which on Saturday viewed the remains of Hylton Seay, 34, widower supposed to have died from either poisoned liquor or an over indulgence in intoxicants will resume its inquest on Friday afternoon at the office of Magistrate R. S. Pitts who is anxious to uncover all details concerning his purchase Seay, a railway man went to a hut used as a fishing camp by a man known as "Old Man Talley" near Seven Mile Ferry with the purpose of spending Saturday fishing. He procured some liquor in some way and becoming ill went to bed. Talley slept at the hut at night and was horrified to find his companion dead the next morning. Seay apparently had died while asleep. Talley notified the neighborhood and people who saw the corpse noted the extreme discoloration and darkened condition of the face. Officers were notified and Magistrate Pitts set on foot immediately an enquiry summoning a number of witnesses to be heard on Friday. As yet the authorities do not know how Seay obtained the liquor. The locality, however, has been given a bad reputation it being stated by the authorities that bootleggers have been seen in the vicinity. Magistrate Pitts has secured some of the liquor which Seay drank and this has been forwarded to the state board of health to undergo a chemical analysis which is expected to be vital in the prosecution of this case.

ZAYAS FINDS REBEL MOVE SMALL AFFAIR

On Return From Scene, Tells People Revolt Is Not Serious.

(By The Associated Press.)

HAVANA, May 5.—The rebellious movement near Cienfuegos and Trinidad, gaoing Secretary of War Betancourt said on returning with the president and the latter, declaring the movement a small affair, told a crowd that gathered in front of the Palace that he had offered complete amnesty to those that gave themselves up at once. Unofficially it was said that efforts are afoot to persuade Dr. Federico Laredo Bru, believed by government officials and by local leaders of the veterans and patriots to be in charge of the movement, to go peacefully to his home.

No more reports of clashes between Rebels and government troops were reported during the night, but a newspaper dispatch from Santa Cruz del Norte said a small vessel had been obtained by the Cuban cruiser Twenty Fourth of February, which with other Cuban war vessels has been patrolling the coast to prevent aid coming to the rebels. The dispatch gave no details.

Denial was entered today by Rev. C. J. D. Parker that he had failed to approve in any particular the Boys' Week program in Danville as recently reported by some of the promoters of the undertaking. Rev. Mr. Parker has been represented as lacking in support of the proposed undertaking here but this morning he said that he approved it but that when it came to designating some organization of his church to prepare food for the camp day celebration he expressed the view that the boys or one of them should designate one of their mothers. The minister said that he had at no time shown any lack of sympathetic interest in the movement. His attitude, judging from his statement today, was misconstrued by those who discussed the matter with him prior to the observance of the week, and who later discussed this impression with a member of the church's board. The minister said this morning that he might set forth his views from the pulpit on this matter though he had not reached a definite determination to do so at the time he made his remarks.

The expressions made by the minister at the time his support was asked, and the interpretation of his attitude are not in accord, though the minister this morning indicated a sympathetic interest in the boys' movement.

SEE END OF REVOLT

(By The Associated Press.)

HAVANA, Cu'n, May 5.—Predictions that the armed outbreak in Santa Clara province would be ended within two or three days were made freely today by government officials following the return of President Zayas from Santa Clara province but coincident with the demonstration accorded him, a printed circular was sent to The Associated Press of the National Association of Veterans and Patriots declaring that the "definite hour of action and of sacrifice has come."

The proclamation bore at the end the printed name of Dr. Oscar Soto, secretary-general of the association, who, with four other leaders, was arrested Tuesday when the Santa Clara movement started.

There was nothing, however, in statements by high government officials or in reports to the American embassy and consulate general and offices of the United Railways of Cuba.

RAILROAD MAN GIVES FACTS IN HIS CASE

First Bottle Of Tanlac Put Cornatzer on Road to Recovery From Stomach Trouble.

The old adage "a stitch in time saves nine" is very forcefully illustrated in a statement regarding Tanlac made recently by S. D. Cornatzer, 1706 13th St., Lynchburg, Va., a railroad brakeman. "It looked like I was going to have to put up with something for a long time, but I got Tanlac, and I'm lucky that I got Tanlac. I could hardly eat a thing without having indigestion bad and I was so nervous that I couldn't sleep to amount to anything. Constipation was also bothering me, I had awful headaches and was extremely weak and run-down."

"Before I finished my first bottle of Tanlac, I was eating everything and sleeping fine and six bottles left me feeling strong and fit for any work. I don't want to get back in that condition again so whenever I feel a little run-down, I go straight for Tanlac. It's a great tonic."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Loss of Appetite.
It's the nature of things for a child to have an appetite. If it has not then something is wrong.

Breast-fed babies always have an appetite and a good one. A breast-fed baby may not eat because he cannot breathe through his nose by reason of a cold, or because he cannot swallow by reason of sore throat, diphtheria, or sucking in his finger, or some other such condition, or sore mouth. In such event he has appetite but he prefers not to eat. He may have no appetite if he has bowel trouble or if he is developing an infection.

Safe To Marry.
A Reader writes:
1. Is scrofula a dangerous disease?
2. Is it safe for a healthy young woman to marry a man who went to the hospital for treatment for scrofula when he was a small boy?
3. Is he in danger now?
4. Will their children, if any, inherit it?
5. He looks healthy, and I don't hear of him being sick. He does a hard work. Do you think that if he had to work hard it would have any effect on him?

REPLY.
1. Scrofula is tuberculosis of the glands of the neck. It is not very dangerous.
2. Yes.
3. No.
4. No.
5. No.

As a rule, scrofula is caused by drinking raw milk from tuberculosis cows.

Measuring Blood Pressure.
J. G. C. writes:
1. Should a man's blood pressure be 100 plus his age? If not correct, what should it be?
2. I am 46 years of age. My blood pressure is 145. Is that so high that must follow a diet—avoid red meats, coffee, confections, and reduce my smoking to three cigars a day?
3. One of my physicians tells me I must follow the above rigidly, while another says with my natural nervous disposition, my blood pressure is not too high. Which is right?

REPLY.
1. That method of measuring gets the normal too high. A better rule is as follows: 120 being normal at age 20, add thereto one for each two years over 20. That also sets the normal somewhat too high.
2. Your normal, according to the above rule, is 143. Your pressure is a little high, but not enough to warrant you in making a martyr of yourself. Be moderate in all things, have a physical examination, including a urinalysis, at least once a year, and let it go at that.
3. Try to keep out of squabbles between man and wife. Disagreements between doctors are likewise dangerous situation to mix in.

ANVIL SPARKS
Great grandma's beauty doctor was All Outdoors.

Now is the time for all good Republicans to come to the aid of the party, if any.

What Washington could use is a few more statesmen open to conviction and not so many in danger of it.

When December and May wed it sometimes happens that later on May runs away with a guy named August.

Princeton and Vassar are to have an intercollegiate debate if the representatives of the former are rude enough to dispute the assertions of their gentler opponents.

Former Attorney General Daugherty says that "accomplishments of the department of justice will be one of the great issues upon which the Republican party will win the next election." But when is the public to be shown the accomplishments?

The poorest people on earth are not the poorest financially.

The electric fan doesn't get any more excited than the baseball fan.

Be interested in yourself alone and you alone will be.

Election time is coming, and many a stump speaker will be up a tree.

The hardest thing about being a professional politician is keeping excited.

You are not getting old until you start thinking the younger generation is going to the dogs.

People who walk in their sleep should get jobs as policemen.

TRIPLETS MAKE EIGHT.
PITTSBURGH, May 3.—Mrs. Louis Hoffman, 35, has become the mother of eight children in less than four weeks. The stark first brought boy and girl twins, then a girl, then twin boys, then—last April—triplets, all boys.

When a gossip meets a gossip that brings on a lot of talk.

I generally start to work by mixing the dust is dry, then sweep it—partly into heaps for collectors, but also into the air where it is breathed into nose, throat and lungs.

It would not cost much to get the fire hoses out and give the streets and sidewalks a thorough cleansing—a virtual sterilization, in fact. A few wise cities do this.

The same process applies to the home. Germs are carried in on the shoes. They collect in rugs. Sweeping with a broom stirs them into the air. A vacuum cleaner for sweeping and a wet cloth for dusting are powerful health protectors.

THE OLD, OLD ADVICE
Testifying in one of the investigations going on in Washington, Huston Thompson, chairman of the federal trade commission, declared himself on price-fixing in the business world. He wound up with the old advice that common sense has been trying to din into the public ear from the beginning of popular government. No further laws are needed to smash "price-fixing" trade associations, he asserted, if present statutes are enforced. The application of jail sentences and fines under the existing laws was urged.

Changing conditions, of course, call for new laws from time to time, but in nothing like the quantity in which they are produced. The principles of justice are themselves changeless, and this argues that the forms of their application to meet new conditions need not be changed as much as some legal technicians.

A will to enforce the law usually finds a way without bothering much with calls for new statutes.

NAME IT THE BLUEBELL
You never can tell. Patience will be rewarded and everything comes out right in the end. Here comes the National Republican, that ineffable publication of John T. Adams and George B. Lockwood, and finally does a favor to the Republican party. Its leading editorial of the week begins as follows:

"The National Republican does not desire to be longer known as the organ of the Republican national committee or the mouthpiece of the national Republican organization. The policy this paper intends to pursue might prove mutually harmful should this impression, never based upon a formal official relationship, be permitted to continue."

There will be some curiosity over the origin of the impulse which induced the paper to abdicate as official organ of the party. It may be that Mr. Adams and Mr. Lockwood decided to make the sacrifice for the good of the cause. But that theory will be doubted, as we are told seldom cut itself off. That friends of President Coolidge inspired the retirement of the Republican from its official position, just as they will shortly motivate the retirement of Mr. Adams and Mr. Lockwood, seems to be the best guess.

Anyhow, the National Republican is done as an official organ. Now, if the Republican leaders can induce the relic to change its name to the National Bluebell the Republican cup of happiness ought to be full.

NEW YORK, May 5.—More wonderful suggestions come regarding modernized sculpture, meaning sculptured in the shape of a changing world. We suggested recently that since war generals don't ride horses any more, that sculptors show the warriors hereafter in an auto or a balloon.

A suggestion comes from a buck private in the late unpleasant war. "Why show a general in a balloon?" he asks. If the truth must be told, he writes, it would be wise to have all future statues of generals underground.

The only generals he saw in the war were in dugouts. Let a cave be built here after, he says and the statue of the general be placed therein. It would save the space on top of the earth any more, he argues.

When movie fans see the new Valentino picture, they will swear that one, some at least is a natural one, taken near some giant forest. But they will be wrong. The set which is an amazing one was built within the Lone Island studio and shows a mansion surrounded by high trees. They are real trees.

We understand the cost of the Valentino picture already has passed the half-million mark—not half a million marks. This information doesn't come from Famous Players.

Producers aren't bragging any more about the cost of movies. Those days are forever gone. A movie actress can receive $5,000 every week real money—beggars us not to mention the fact in a recent story. She knows that such information is liable to be presented by many, and she is right. Every own heart skips a beat when we type the salary.

We often attend musical comedies and wonder how such pleasing combinations of colors are obtained in the costumes.

One asked a few questions the first time we met Charles LaMaire, one of Broadway's costumers, who knows as much about the human figure as any one. Said he:

"When you consider the fact that in the theater faces coloring and general types of the girls who must be dressed individually or uniformly, you can well imagine that this is a vast task."

He then explained a group of costumes that he had made for the last word in fashion. Can you least by half it streets and sidewalks were flushed with water from high-pressure hoses and all eye attention drawn to carry germ-laden dust down to the sewers. Instead, cities wash up

DRAKES BRANCH, May 5. (Grapevine Wire)—Uncle Windy Wolf of Pleasant Gay, says conversation is largely accidental. It depends upon who goes to the bat in the first inning. A bad play is likely to call for a new pitcher or break up the game. Some people have the knack of steering conversation while others just butt in with bit of foolish comment now and then. Good listeners are the uncrowned kings of society!

A few friends dropped in to Ed's home the other evening, relates Spivak. It was not long before his wife and the other women went into a discussion over period furniture; they discussed from every angle their preferences for Tudor, Jacobean, William and Mary, Queen Anne, Empire, Mid-Victorian and Sheraton. Phye, Hepplethwaite and John Adams, of Colonial days. When one woman asked what his preference was. He replied that he was thinking of refurbishing his home, one room with Early Larkin period, one with Sears Roebuck Renaissance, one with the late Montgomery Ward period and another with Middle Grand Rapids and for decorations he would use Mid-West John Rhodes bric-a-brac.

How nice it is to breathe the air
Of early morn on summer days.
Yet it can't drive away dull care

How picturesquely the flocks and herds
Beside the meadows, streams, and lakes
Ah, would that I could say in words
How they would taste in chops and steaks.

And see the handsome Mallard duck
As southward, speedily he glides.
But how much better would he look
With strips of bacon on his sides.

The little lark fills up his throat
And sounds a note of gay content.
But I would rather have a note
That earns me six or eight per cent.

HIS BROTHER'S WIFE

by RUBY AYRES

A NIA SERVICE

SYNOPSIS
The marriage of Dolly and Nigel Bretherton proves an unhappy one. When war is declared, Nigel is glad to enlist. He leaves Dolly under the care of Mary Furnival. Nigel is killed and Dolly marries an old sweetheart, Robert Durham. Dolly and Robert sail for America. Nigel's widow comes to the sinking of the ship on which they took passage.

When Nigel's older brother, David, calls to see Nigel's widow, Mary, is ashamed to tell him of Dolly's marriage. She used to say that Mary for his brother's wife and asks her to come to live at Red Grange with him and his aunt, Miss Varney. Mary is given a hearty welcome to her new home by David and his aunt. David shows Mary over the grounds of Red Grange. Mary likes the place.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
Her eyes sparkled. "Whenever you can spare the time, I should love another." "Tomorrow morning, then?" "Yes, please."

There was something very childish in the answer. David laughed. "Do you know that you remind me of a little girl at a party who has been told to be on her best behavior?" he said.

She colored faintly. "Do I? I've never been to a party." "He looked amazed."

"Yes, really. You see, I've always been poor—always had to work for my living, until—"

"Until you married Nigel!"—he finished for her. "She said nothing. During the last few minutes she had forgotten her deception, forgotten everything but the enjoyment of this ride. Now memory came, surging back to her like an angry tide."

"I have often wished, since I came home, that I'd done more for him," David went on. "There was such a heap of money living idle; I'm afraid I was mean with him."

"He used to say how generous you were. He always spoke as if he thought the world of you."

David sat in moody silence. He hardly spoke again till they were back once more at Red Grange. He got down from the wheel, and turning, held his hand to Mary.

"You look all the better for your drive," he said. "There is quite a color in your cheeks. I've enjoyed it, too. It isn't often I get tea, but I must say I do today."

He followed her into the house. "Have you got any eat for us, Aunt Florence?" David asked, putting his head round the drawing-room door. "We're as hungry as hounds."

He turned to look at Mary, but she had gone. He went quickly forward into the room.

WEAK, NERVOUS, EASILY TIRED

Physician's Daughter Took Cardui for Womanly Weakness, and Says It Did Her "Lots of Good."

Elora, Tenn.—That Cardui has no equal as a tonic for weak women, suffering as she suffered, is the conclusion reached by Miss Ola Morgan, of Elora, after her experience in the use of this well-known, purely vegetable tonic medicine.

"I hadn't been so strong and my health hadn't been so good for some time," says Miss Morgan, "and when I reached womanhood, I had troubles common to women. I would have pains all in my sides, stomach and back. There was a great deal of soreness across my stomach.
"I was weak, nervous, easily tired, and would have to lie down. It was suffering for me to stand on my feet."
"My father, who practiced medicine for years, knew of Cardui, he having used it in practice for womanly troubles, such as I seemed to have, and I decided to take it."
"I took four or five bottles and I can assure you it did me a lot of good. There is no other medicine that can take its place as a female tonic."
There is only one CARDUI, the Woman's Tonic. It is a pure, wholesome remedy, made exclusively from vegetable ingredients and contains no harmful, deleterious or habit-forming drugs. Try it! At all drug stores.

MRS. MARGARET WILLIS

By JACK JUNGMEYER
LOS ANGELES, April 22.—Here is a new defense in a murder case. "I feel no remorse. I have studied science. I have learned that human life is no more than the life of an animal. Would I hesitate to kill a venomous snake? Why, then, should I hesitate to kill a dangerous man?" That is Mrs. Margaret Willis' defense. She has confessed she killed Dr. Benjamin Baldwin, 40, and has given herself up to the police.

She says that Dr. Baldwin, with whom she was negotiating for the purchase of an auto, had come to her apartment intoxicated, and attempted to attack her. She says she shot him dead, placed his body in a wardrobe trunk and had it carried to a high cliff over which it was thrown.

After killing Baldwin, she asserts she remained in the apartment with the body for 24 hours.
She explained this and her belated confession, police said, on the ground that she wanted to keep her gruesome secret from her 13-year-old son. "I didn't know how to tell him what I had done," she said.

SPANISH KING'S RACING STABLE HELPS ROYAL POCKETBOOK

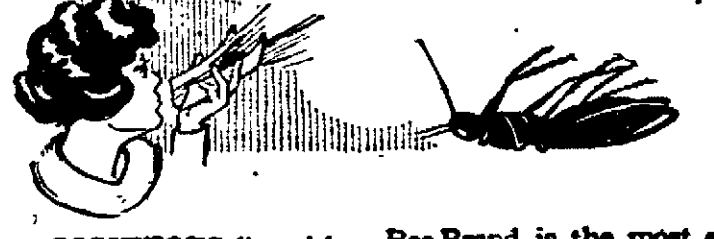

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, May 3.—The stable of the Duke of Toledo, the incognito under which the King of Spain's colors are seen on the Spanish turf, has gathered in 2,116,954 pesetas in stakes since its creation in 1916.

The king's best year was in 1922 when his three year old Ruban won the 500,000 pesetas Grand Prix de Sebastian and the total winnings of the stable amounted to $26,734 pesetas. Horses lead the breed and born in France lead the king's stable with 1,625,827 pesetas. English stock comes second with 249,759, while Spanish horses could not do better than bring 240,977 pesetas into their royal owner's pocketbook.

This county has 19 national parks with a total area of 11,372 square miles.

MOSQUITOES die quickly when they breathe the finely ground Bee Brand Insect Powder. Close the doors and windows and blow small quantities about the room. It floats in the air and kills them. Some prefer to burn the powder. It is also effective. The cost of using is amazingly low.

Insect Powder is one of the most effective insecticides.

HUNT'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, May 5.—There's more than appears on the surface in the selection of Representative Theodore Burton, former senator from Ohio, to sound the G. O. P. keynote at the Cleveland convention June 10.

Burton was not chosen because of outstanding oratorical ability. He is a ponderous speaker, with a husky, throaty voice that is hard to follow. His speeches are informative rather than inspiring. He is not adept at pointing with pride or pleading with alarm, unless he can put his pointer on specific facts and figures. His speeches, even then, rouse no one to enthusiasm, though they furnish food for thought in ruminative hours.

President Coolidge promptly disposed of a story that Burton's selection had been made without his approval. He himself, he says, suggested the Ohio representative as a proper and desirable choice.

The fact that Burton is a resident of Cleveland, where the convention is to be held, and of Ohio, the home state of President Harding—who, except for the intervention of Fate, would be the nominee again this year—made the selection of an Ohioan and a Clevelander particularly happy, Coolidge suggested.

All very true, doubtless. But keynotes for national conventions are selected on practical rather than sentimental grounds. And granting that this sentimental reason exists in the case of the Burton selection, there was a piece of practical politics involved that played a much greater part in the decision. For instance:

Ohio is debatable ground this year. It is one of the pivotal states. The 24 Buckeye electors may throw the decision for or against Coolidge for reelection. Meanwhile, the position of the party in the state is not happy. There is an intrastate battle raging between rival groups backing rival candidates for the head of the state ticket. This cutthroat fight over who shall be the Republican candidate for governor threatens to gum up the race of the Republican candidate for president in that state should any one of the factional leaders now involved be nominated.

And right there's where Burton, as keynote, comes in. The recognition of Burton as party leader in Ohio, by choosing him to set the pitch for the national campaign, is directly intended to boost him into the spotlight as a man behind whom all the party's factions in Ohio could unite for governor.

The organization of the state Republican ticket, it is figured, Burton would be a big help toward pulling Coolidge out of the state with a majority. The nomination of a gubernatorial candidate from any of the factions now at war, however, would distinctly handicap the national Republican ticket in the state and might make a

COMPLETE PLANS FOR DRIVE FOR M'ADOO

(By The Associated Press)

SANFORD, Fla., May 3.—Delegates to the convention of supporters of William G. McAdoo for the Democratic nomination for president of the United States, today completed plans for a state-wide drive in the interests of his candidacy. Mr. McAdoo and Senator Oscar W. Underwood are the only entrants in the state Democratic presidential preference primary to be held June 3.

The plan of campaign includes the "stumping" of the state by speakers to be appointed and the organization of "McAdoo-for-President" clubs throughout the state.

The organization of McAdoo clubs throughout the state will begin next week, according to the plans made today.

The itineraries of speakers will be announced later.

FRENCH FEAR OF QUAKES PREVENTS NEW EMBASSY

PARIS, May 3.—The prevalence of earthquakes in Japan is given as the reason for the decision of the French government to abandon the plan of erecting an embassy building in Tokyo. A bill recently introduced in the French Chamber, and sponsored by the government, asks authority to sell the site purchased in 1912.

The bill reads: "The cataclysm which has brought desolation to Japan has demonstrated the inopportunities of erecting so important a construction as had been planned."
The amount accruing from the sale of the site of the proposed embassy will be applied to reconstructing the old one.

difference of 48 in his total electoral count.

And a much less margin than 48 is likely to decide the result.

Burton, a bachelor, was 72 last December. He is one of the senior members of Congress and set the precedent running for and being re-elected to the House of Representatives after having served in the U. S. Senate.

Burton's withdrawal as candidate for reelection to the Senate in 1914 paved the way for Warren G. Harding.

ing to succeed him in the Senate and win ultimate promotion to the presidency. As keynote this year—and gubernatorial candidate—he may help Coolidge to retain that office.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., May 3.—Charles L. Corn, 37, was almost instantly killed last night when he was struck by an automobile driven by James Cross. Elcorn was deaf and dumb and authorities believe the accident was unavoidable.

SORE, BLEEDING GUMS STOPPED IN 12 HOURS

Creosene, A Pleasant Liquid That Accomplishes At Home all the Good Benefits of Treatment In Dental Chair Without the Pain and Expense.

Sore, bleeding gums indicate the beginning of pyorrhea. If neglected the infection spreads from the gum tissue to the root sockets—the foundation on which your teeth depend. Then the teeth fall out or must be pulled. Through a new discovery, Creosene, a pleasant penetrating liquid, medicated with gum healing and germ destroying ingredients used by the dental profession carries the infection direct to the roots of the teeth, relieving pain, tightening loose teeth, healing pus pockets, destroying decayed teeth odors and killing the germ that leads to pyorrhea. The medicine used in Creosene is new but are well known and used by the entire dental profession. The new discovery is the method of penetration which carries the gum-healing, germ-destroying medicines direct to the roots of the teeth and into every nook, corner and crevice in and between the teeth, thereby accomplishing at home, in a pleasant way, all the good benefits of a treatment in the dental chair, without the pain and expense. If your gums are sore and bleed easily or your teeth sensitive or loose, this is your warning of pyorrhea ahead. Do not wait one minute, but go immediately to any good drug store, and purchase a dollar bottle of Creosene with the positive guarantee of relief in twelve hours or money refunded. Creosene Co., Atlanta, Ga.—adv.

Was Queen of the May

MISS HARRELL JAMES

May-Day Exercises At Sweet Briar

Unusual interest for Danville people attaches to the May-Day exercises at Sweet Briar College this year because of the fact that Miss Anne Harrell James, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. Bruce James, and one of the most beautiful young society girls of the Lynchburg and the surrounding country, was chosen by her college to be queen of the May.

The following interesting account of the exercises, is taken from the Lynchburg News:

With Miss Anne Harrell James, of Danville, serving with charm and dignity as queen, surrounded by a court and attendants chosen from the most beautiful girls of the institution, the crowning of the May queen in Boxwood circle, initiated May Day celebration at Sweet Briar College yesterday afternoon. Ideal weather brought out large numbers of the students from Lynchburg and the surrounding country, while many relatives and friends came from distances to see the exercises.

Crowning of the queen, together with the Pole dance led by Misses Mary and Robins Rich, in Boxwood circle was followed by a pageant of the seasons in the dell, where with more room for spectators, a series of well executed dances accompanied by fitting music and aided greatly in their effectiveness by colorful costumes, were presented in attractive style.

Many visitors who were present at the exercises in the afternoon remained for the dance given during the evening by the queen and her court in the college refectory, which was attractively decorated in spring flowers.

At 2:30 o'clock the heralds, Misses Claire Hanner and Theodore Maybank appeared in the circle, while students lined on both sides of the way she was to pass sang a song in greeting of the May queen, who appeared, preceded by Miss Mary B. Wilson, as maid of honor, Miss Muriel MacLeod, as scepter bearer and Miss Josephine Von Maur, as garland bearer. Miss Martha Lee was page, attired in white satin, having a long court train and carrying a large bunch of orchids and valley lilies, while her attendants were divided into two groups, all wearing cream lace over-dresses, covering and green, the senior class colors. Sashes and trains were of satin in these colors.

An outstanding feature of the crowning was the address of the queen to her court, which contrary to custom at most affairs of this kind, was clearly heard by the spectators filling both porches of Boxwood in space in front of the building and even the roof, being seated in several rows at points, reaching from ridge pole to gutters.

The pageant and music were arranged by Miss Helen Young, while the dances were directed by Miss Isabel Watkins.

In theme, the pageant was of the usual May day style, games awaiting the sleeping spirit of Spring. Miss Elizabeth Pope who dances about in joy and is joined and welcomed by young leaves, violets, frogs and peach blossoms, each represented by a group of appropriately costumed dancers.

Summer, Miss Polly Carey Dew, then displaces spring, a riot of color being presented in the balloon dance and that executed by the "butterflies" who are followed by roses. Beasts of fruit and grain, attired in russet next appear and Summer is banished, as the brilliantly costumed Autumn appears. Miss Alice Gilchrist being followed by a group of brightly colored autumn leaves, and these in turn by pumpkin pigmies, and hunchesses.

King Winter, Miss Louise Harper, is the last to appear, being accompanied by Jack Frost, Miss Mildred Wilson, and group of snow flakes, but at the end, he too, is banished as the spring music begins again.

The program was in charge of Miss Mary Reed and Misses Josephine Schiffer and Mildred Hudson formed the committee on costume. Misses Dora Hancock and Mary Nadine Pope were the committee on properties. Musicians were Misses Esther Arnold, pianist; Hannah Bell, Katherine Norris, Margaret Walton and Mrs. Archer Summerson, violinists.

College Girls In Debate On Co-Ops

The Averett College auditorium was filled Saturday night by a large and appreciative audience to hear the fourth annual debate between the Mnemosynean and Philomathean Literary societies. The subject discussed was "Resolved: That co-operative marketing is beneficial to the tobacco growers of Virginia."

On account of the great local interest in co-operative marketing, many were anxious to hear these young ladies' views on the subject. They found that the arguments on both sides were logical, flexible, well arranged and well delivered. The ladies showed remarkable acquaintance with their subject and reflected credit on themselves and Averett College. Not appearing with a set speech, but with confidence in themselves and their cause, each speaker defended her side with logic, originality and wit that were very pleasing to all. Especially was their personal merit as well as their training reflected by the strength of their reply speeches.

Miss Estelle Burt, president of the Philomathean Society, introduced the debaters as follows: Affirmative—Miss Ruth Burton and Miss Saxon Rowe, of the Philomathean Society; Negative—Miss Chavigny Clark and Miss Elinor McCulloch, of the Mnemosynean Society. Miss Oethia Holmes, president of the Mnemosynean Society, acted as timekeeper. The judges of the debate were Dr. Langston, Herbert M. Martin, and Rev. Malcolm S. Taylor. After careful deliberation they gave the honors to the representatives of the Mnemosynean Society, who defended the negative.

It is interesting to note that for the last three years in these annual debates the cup, for which they were contesting, was won by the Philomathean Society, which, according to agreement, rendered their property to the college by the generosity of friends of the college a new cup was put up and last night was presented in a cheerful little speech by Mr. James M. Thomas, one of the college trustees.

The very enthusiastic college yells and songs given by the student body after the debates, exhibited a true, honest college spirit that could not have been excelled by their brothers. Miss Virginia Harris was cheer-leader for the Philomathean Society and Miss Bettie Cummings for the Mnemosynean Society. Their friendly rivalry showed a healthy college spirit.

Castor Oil? Never Again!

That's what numbers of mothers are saying since they have tried Liv-o-lax for the bilious attacks, indigestion and similar disorders of their children.

Mother, dreads giving castor oil just as much as the baby fears taking it, and the same applies to colic.

It was because the common family laxative fails to act on the liver that W. L. Hand began experimenting to devise a remedy that would act on both liver and bowels and take the place of colic and castor oil, and the Liv-o-lax formula, as has been proven in thousands of households, meets this need.

Liv-o-lax is purely vegetable and is a liquid ready so pleasant to taste that the children love to take it.

It is just as good for bilious conditions and disorders of digestion in adults. You can get Liv-o-lax now at your favorite drug store.

TENNIS, PRO AND CON

Bill Tilden and Vinny Richards have foot faulted into professional tennis and are now as exclusive as aching humors on the toes of a wooden leg.

Billy and Vinny used to be the two best amateurs in the household, now they are the two worst professionals, having been indicted on the heinous charge of writing instead of loafing for a living.

All play and no work makes Throckmorton Astorbill III a dumb animal but keeps his amateur standing sacred.

Mothers wishing to bring their flopped sons up in the noble chasity of pure amateurism should keep them free of the contaminating influences of portable typewriters and the iniquities of editorial rooms.

The sympathy of a large disinterested public is with Tilden and Richards, mainly because neither of the young gentlemen ever wore a towel around his noodle on the courts.

Tex Rickard says he will put professional tennis on its feet and we hope he'll be able to keep it there longer than he did Firpo.

With Rickard taking over the sport, the dear boys will have to battle under straight Marquis of Queensberry rules, with clean breaks and no biting in the clinches.

Perhaps the time is not far distant when thousands of fans will storm Madison Square Garden to watch the Wild Poodle of the Ritz clash with the Indignant Canary of the Boulevard in the first international professional tennis championship.

Whatever virtues the idea may have, pro tennis can never hope to be a success until Judge Landis consents to dignify it at fifty thousand smackers a year.

It is said that when the Europeans learned that Tilden and Richards would not compete in the Olympics they broke down and shed large salty tears.... large salty tears of joy.

Danville Loses To Winston 5 to 4

Manager Bill Jackson's sturdy Twins took the final game of the Winston series by the superior pitching of Thompson and better batting by his team-mates, the final score being 5 to 4.

Owner Murphy fought to the last to even the count, and, with the score 5 to 3 against him, his men pushed over another run in the ninth to compete the total. With Resco on first and Belk on third, which he has stolen, Harris, pinch-hitting for Stripp, hit a double killing at second and first, and Tagaman grounded to third for the final out.

Three of the nine runs of the game were homers, Manager Murphy getting one in the first, Short Stop Myers in the third and Third Baseman Standeart the last one in the fifth. By a peculiar coincidence no runs came on when the circuit clouts came in the eighth. The victory of the Twins was well deserved on the merits of the brilliant pitching of Thompson, a New York rookie and the hard hitting of his team-mates. Thompson had a slow drop-ball and a varied assortment of hooks and twisters and when he got going after the second inning he turned the Danville batsmen back without a man getting on until Trefry was hit by a pitched ball in the eighth. The visiting hurler yielded but one hit after the second inning. His control was also good and he received sharp support from his fielders after the second inning.

On the other hand, Pitcher Wilson did not have his curves breaking as well as usual and two home runs and the bunting of two hits in each of the sixth and eighth inning, with a stolen base in one instance and an error in the other added the winning makers. Winston's first run was earned, his hitting from the outfield, Murphy's error on Peck's grounder. While the left-handed pitcher a game which would win in most instances, the superior work of Thompson was too much for him in this case.

The three outstanding fielding plays of the game Stripp's fine stop of Standeart's catch of Wilson's fly in the eighth. The batting of Staley and Myers was noteworthy.

Winston's fourth run, breaking a tie in the sixth, was made possible by Staley's steal of second, their on a stolen base. The final run scored on Stripp's error in the eighth. In the eighth a ball thrown from short right by Resco, Myers had singled through the center to the diamond and Staley drove a sharp grounder over the first sack, whence Resco was barely able to touch. He failed to head off the speeding Myers, but the ball reached Stripp low and go by him Myers scoring.

It was not to be expected that Danville could win the game on foul. The run was made possible only by the poor batting is the explanation. In the third fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth innings, Danville could get nothing like a hit and the visiting team run was made possible only by Belk's daring steal of third, enabling him to register while Resco and Harris were being snuffed out in the latter's grounder to Myers.

Danville Goes on Road for Week; Play Bulls Today

HARRIS TO PITCH THIS AFTERNOON AT DURHAM, TIME LIMIT EXTENDED

Murphy Has Until Next Saturday to Cut Force to 14 Men—Has Eye on New Players to Improve on Weak Spots on Team.

The Tobaccoists left Danville this morning in motor cars on a road trip of a week, going to Durham where this afternoon they will play the first of a series of three games with Bill Pierce's aggregation. The team will then go to Winston for a trio of games with Jackson's crew, whom they defeated two out of three games last week.

It was announced this morning that Cude Harris will probably do the mound work for Murphy this afternoon with Bill Maillard as second choice. Dave Cochlin will do the receiving.

Owner Murphy is keeping his eyes open for new additions to his pitching staff, the department at present being in somewhat of a crippled condition. Allen, who has not yet worked a game, is complaining with a sore arm, which will probably keep him out for some time to come, while McWhirter, who also has been out for several days nursing an injured finger, which he hurt in Friday's game with Winston. This leaves only Harris, Maillard and Wilson who are in condition for pitching at present.

Shrewd Bootlegger Regains His Auto By Clever Ruse

GREENSBORO, N. C., May 5.—An unconfirmed story that is going the rounds here tells how a nimble-witted bootlegger, traveling in a large automobile bearing a North Carolina license number recently exorcised himself from a most embarrassing if not a dangerous situation not long ago in a nearby Virginia city.

214,153 Motor Vehicles Licensed In Old Dominion

RICHMOND, Va., May 5.—Automobile, truck and motorcycle licenses issued in Virginia during 1924 total 214,153, as compared with 179,080 to May 29, 1923, it was announced today by James M. Hayes, Jr., chief clerk of the automobile department. It is estimated that 30,000 more licenses will be issued in the state this year than last, the 1923 total being 232,424.

A comparative statement of licenses given out on May 1, 1924, as compared with those issued on May 29, 1923, follows:

Automobiles, 180,669 and 150,650; trucks, 25,648 and 21,835; convertible, 2,600 and 2,370; dealer, 3,200 and 3,600; motorcycle, 1,800 and 1,200; trailer, 200 and 150; misc., 275 and 475.

GERMAN PEOPLE VOTE IN FAVOR OF MODERATES

Promised Coalition Assured On Basis of Returns in Parliamentary Election

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, May 5.—The promised coalition of the Moderates, comprising the Socialist, Clerical, Democratic and Peoples Parties is regarded as assured on the basis of partial returns from yesterday's parliamentary election.

Thus the people have apparently placed their seal of approval on the Dawes reparations report, as the leaders of the Moderates, including Foreign Minister Stresemann, based their campaign on the adoption and execution of the report as a sure cure for the country's ailments.

While the counting of ballots is necessarily slow, due to the large number of party tickets in the field, indications are that the coalition will have sufficient seats in the Reichstag to force through the enabling legislation required by the Dawes report with little help from the independent factions.

The Nationalists and Communists made some gains but the vote polled by General Ludendorff's ultramontarchists did not come up to expectations and the result indicates decisive failure of the reactionary and radical campaigns.

The balloting was heavy and it is probable that at least fifteen new deputies will be added to the Reichstag, increasing the membership to 475.

Returns from 22 of the 75 electoral districts showed election of 244 candidates including 53 Socialists, 12 Democrats, 39 Centrists, 25 German Peoples party, 42 Nationalists and 13 Bavarian Peoples party. The remainder were distributed among the other various parties.

About 75 per cent of the electorate voted throughout the Reich.

LONDON, May 5.—An agency dispatch from Berlin gives the distribution of the seats in the Reichstag as the result of yesterday's election on the basis of available returns as follows:

Social Democrats and Independents, 81.
German National Peoples Party, 76.
Communists, 55.
German Peoples Party, 43.
Popular and National Socialists, 30.
Democrats, 28.
Bavarian Peoples Party, 14.
Bavarian Peasants Union, 9.
National Liberals, 9.
Hanoverians, 5.

Nelson Page's Old Home In Charlotte Co. Sold For a Club

Sale of "Staunton Hill," the fine old Bruce estate in Charlotte county, Va., with its beautiful mansion and 2,230 acres, is announced at Washington by Senator Bruce, of Maryland, the owner. The property was sold to the Charlotte County Club, representing himself and others, the purchasers. The sale price is not disclosed. The property will become a club. It is forty miles from Lynchburg, on a good road.

The late Thomas Nelson Page, married Ann Bruce in 1886, and here he wrote some of his novels. The estate overlooks the Staunton river, along which there are 500 acres of river frontage, including the plantation. It is three miles from "Red Hill," the home of Patrick Henry.

The property has been in the family of Senator Bruce since 1801. The mansion was not built until 1818. The workmen also were imported from Philadelphia. John E. Johnson, a Virginian, and graduate of West Point Military Academy, was the architect.

Immense crops have been raised on the plantation. Records show as many as 1,000,000 hills of tobacco in a season, and 25,000 bushels of corn. At this time there are fifteen tenant families on the estate, and it is the purpose of the club to utilize this labor, as well as additional help in the conduct of the place as an up-to-date money-making farm proposition.

The club has obtained a charter from the Virginia state corporation commission, and it is expected that it will open in May 15. Officers are Calvin H. Haley, president (incidentally secretary to Congressman Woodrum); Carl E. McKim, vice-president; H. D. Willis, secretary; S. B. Smith, J. A. Neister and S. W. Owen, all of Lynchburg.

GIANTS AND REDS WIN BOTH ENDS OF DOUBLE HEADERS, INDIANS WIN

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 5.—John McGraw's conservative baseball team turned spindrift yesterday and made 31 hits and 25 runs in winning a double header from Philadelphia by scores of 13 to 3 and 12 to 3. The Phillies blamed it on Umpire Pflum who answered by chasing twelve of Fletcher's bench warmers off the campus.

Under the barrage of hits Manager McGraw conducted more pitching experiments. Gearin and Gieschler, who began the games, left after two innings each. Baldwin's rookie, and Jonnard finishing stumps in each of the second game, but Benton and May, pitching before a fast defense, kept a one-run lead.

Grover Alexander held St. Louis to 3 hits, one a home-run by Freida and pitched his twenty-ninth consecutive inning without issuing a pass, in the Chicago 4 to 1 victory over the Cardinals. Grimes hit a homer, double and single.

Dazzy Vance, was invincible in all but two innings and Brooklyn, with Deberry and Wheat hitting hard, won from Boston, 7 to 3.

The Braves, who were idle in the American League with the Red Sox, held fifth place when St. Louis beat Detroit 6 to 5 and Cleveland walloped Chicago 13 to 7. Ken Williams made his fourth home run, which, with another by Severid, was a decisive factor in the Browns' fourth straight victory over the Tigers.

Cleveland's task in beating the White Sox was simplified by ineffectual pitching and poor fielding of their foes. Philadelphia lost its sixth consecutive game when Washington beat them 3 to 2. Walter Johnson weakened in the eighth after pitching good ball but Marberry saved the game by fanning Miller with two men on.

Evangelist draws big Sunday crowd. A splendid congregation assembled last night at the "Back to the Bible" hall to hear Evangelist Pickard discourse on the "Two Ways, or Modern Prophecy and Visions."

There are just two ways mentioned in all the Bible in which men and women are traveling, and every person in all the world is wending his way along one or the other of the two," said Mr. Pickard. "One is narrow and steep; along which there are to be found many a sharp rock and thorny briar, but the end thereof is life eternal. Few travel this way. The other is broad and sunny, the way leading downward and easy. It is thronged with people, but the end thereof is death eternal death."

There are two guides for the traveler, only two guides. One is the Good Shepherd, and the other the wily serpent. There are two homes also depicted in the book, and these will be found at the end of each of the ways herein described.

The narrow way is the way of the Commandments of God. It requires implicit obedience to all the instructions given in the Guide Book. There are many by-paths, but they too are pointed out in the book. This guide book also warns the traveler against the requirements of God and (Ezekiel 22:26-31) who will teach others to do the same. The subject for tonight is to be "The Unpardonable Sin."

Grandstand Gaff

After a week at home, Manager Herb Murphy left with his hirelings this morning for a road trip of a week, journeying to Durham for the first series of three games. He will then go to Winston Salem for the next three. Today will be the Tobaccoists' first contest with the Bulls and a lively scrap is expected. Last week Danville won four games and lost only one, one being rained out. The Bulls have been winning right along and will do their utmost to continue so. It is expected that either Maillard or Harris will do the box work today.

Too bad, Pitcher Thompson former Yankee rookie had the boys' number on Saturday, only four of them getting safeties. But even at that, they would have won had Pitcher Wilson been in a little better form and had better support been given him. Four out of five is pretty good, though and if the boys keep up at this pace just look where the Tobaccoists will land.

A strenuous effort was made in the ninth to win, but only one run resulted. The chance was good right, but Harris pinch hitting for Stripp unfortunately hit into a double play. Manager Murphy got his second homer of the season, sending the ball high over the big wheel in right. He was robed in the eighth of another hit labeled for two or more bases when Long raced back against the fence in deep center and speared his long fly. It was a pretty catch and saved the game for Winston. The ball would have gone over had it been a little to right or left.

One of the most brilliant infield plays seen here in some time was made by Murphy. In the ninth with two on and two out, Pitcher Thompson hit a hot grounder just left of second. It looked like a sure hit but Murphy, racing towards second, scooped it up and tossed it at Belk by the same motion and forced Standeart. This was an example of the kind of fielding he is capable of doing.

The Giants increased their lead in the National League race by bumping the Phillies off in both ends of a double bill yesterday. The Reds also checked the advancing Pirates with two defeats.

When Danville returns next Monday to meet Durham for three games fans here will be hungry for baseball again. A whole week away from home will seem like a month to many. The attendance had begun to pick up towards the week-end, with interest increasing in the pastime here. The good impression made by the team, the brilliant playing and above all, winning, is what brought out the crowds. Here's hoping the boys luck on the road this week.

RHEUMATISM DISAPPEARS GAINS FIFTEEN POUNDS

Indigestion and Neuralgia Also Vanished by "DRECO" Famous Natural Tonic.

Mrs. Geneva Thompson, Box 376, Salem, Va., a well liked member of the Methodist Church is one of the latest to praise Dreco. She says: "For a long time I was so crippled with rheumatism in the joints I could just barely get around. I was nervous and rundown, my stomach hadn't been in good condition for years and I suffered after every meal from indigestion. I felt drowsy and slept all the time, had frequent attacks of neuralgia. Dreco seemed to be made for me though and I noticed an improvement almost from the first dose. Now after finishing five bottles I feel as well as

I ever did. Rheumatism gone, stomach in good shape, I'm sleeping better, am full of pep and energy and have gained 15 lbs. In weight. Dreco's certainly a grand medicine and I'll never be able to thank it enough.

Dreco is natural—made from the pure, unadulterated juices of 12 remarkable herbs, leaves, roots and barks which quickly ton up the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and relieve the many ills caused by the failure of these organs to function properly. Dreco increases the appetite, promotes sound refreshing sleep and builds up one's strength.

Dreco is made by the famous David H. Fulton & Co., and is being specially introduced in this section by Patterson Drug Co., and sold by druggists everywhere.—adv.

A practical standard of Gasoline

There is a very simple, convenient and practical standard of gasoline just as there are standards of time, of weight, and of distance. It is a gallon of "Standard" gasoline.

"Standard" Gasoline is the product of over fifty years' experience in oil refining. Millions of dollars have been spent in research and experiment to make it worthy of the name "Standard".

It has successfully met the hardest test of all—the test of continued favor with the general public. "As good as Standard" is a claim one often hears because the trade recognizes "Standard" gasoline as a measure of quality.

To the lay motorist a gallon of "Standard" gasoline offers a very practical standard of comparison in motor fuels. It is easy to apply and easy to get. You can always make sure of getting it by simply asking for it by name.

Everyman's Investments

By GEORGE T. HUGHES

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)
Thirteenth Article
The Different Denominations of Bonds

Bonds are issued in various denominations, usually of $10, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. Bond dealers refer to them as $100, or $500, or $1,000 pieces. The $1,000 bond is the unit in bond trading. More $1,000 bonds are issued than any other denomination and there is a slight advantage in buying $1,000 bonds as they are a little easier to sell. Liberty bonds were issued in denominations as low as $1 and some Federal Land Bonds have been put out in a denomination of $40. The reason for this is to avoid half cents in the coupon as a 4 1/2 cent rate on a $50 bond would require some 125 of these small denominations.

There is no profit in handling them. The investment banker, however, always hopes that the buyer of a $100 bond will eventually become an investor on a larger scale. As far as security goes there is absolutely no difference between the denominations. The holder of a $100 piece has just the same protection for his money as the owner of a $1,000 bond. He does lose a life in the matter of market ability but that is not important if he takes only issues of high investment rating and small investors ought to buy nothing else. Probably the best course for the small capitalist is to keep his savings in the bank until he has accumulated enough to buy a bond in the regular $1,000 denomination.

If, however, he wants the immediate higher return there is no objection to buying the so-called "cheap" bonds. These are issued by the same corporation the bond holder has the prior claim. A bond holder is a creditor and must be paid as long as the corporation is solvent. The stockholder is a partner. There is no obligation to declare dividends even upon preferred stocks unless in their judgment the finances of the company warrant it. Also to pay dividends out of anything else than profits or surplus is unlawful.

(Mr. Hughes' fourteenth article will appear in The Bee next Wednesday.)

CASCADE MAN SUFFERS BROKEN BACK IN WRECK

(Special to The Bee.)
MARTINSVILLE, Va., May 5.—A joy ride proved a most tragic for Benton Martin, of Cascade, yesterday afternoon who now lies in the Lucy Lester Hospital here with a broken back, after his car, Martin in company with his wife and J. A. Dickson, a section foreman on the Danville & Western, had left his home at Cascade on route to Spray, by way of Aiken Summit. The men, it is declared, had been drinking. Near Aiken Summit the car left the road and went over a hill, when it turned completely over, pinning Martin underneath. Dr. E. L. Ing.

Webb, of Draper, happened to be out driving with his wife and baby, and overtook the party, just a few minutes after the accident and found Martin lying unconscious beside the car. After the driver, Dickson, had been proved to be but flesh wounds, caused by the broken glass, he rushed the unfortunate young man to the hospital. An X-ray was taken late in the evening, and Dr. H. H. Hurd and other physicians report he has suffered a severe fracture of the spine. Martin admitted at the hospital, both he and Dickson had been drinking.

LADIES DISAGREE ON PEACE AND FREEDOM

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, May 3.—Smouldering differences between members of the Daughters of the War of 1912 and the Women's International League for peace and freedom, burst into a spluttering flame tonight at a public meeting of the latter organization when Mrs. Noble Newport Potts, president of the District of Columbia Society of the Daughters, rose from an inconspicuous seat and demanded direct replies to a set of prepared questions.

Her first question was whether the league favored abolition of the War Department but the chairman refused to allow an answer to be given, declaring the question was not in order. Mrs. Potts insisted but was obliged to desist because of muttered manifestations of disapproval from those present, whereupon she left the hall.

In the lobby outside the hall, however, Mrs. Potts was joined by several sympathizers and the argument was resumed with Miss Carolina Wood, of the Society of Friends of Philadelphia, and Miss Amy Woods, national secretary of the league, taking up the cause of the women's league.

Colonel H. H. Sheets, of the officers reserve corps, who had accompanied Mrs. Potts, asked Miss Woods whether she would be ready to issue a denial of a previous statement that seven hundred American soldiers are

NEW YORK STOCKS.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 5.—Stock prices showed a tendency to resume their forward movement at the opening of today's market, although the advance was resisted by bear operators who renewed their attacks against a few market leaders. United States Steel and Baldwin yielded fractionally to selling pressure but a wide variety of copper, chemical, specialty and shipping shares scored moderate gains.

Pool operations in Marine pfd. and Colorado Fuel, which attained new high levels for the year at 38 and 41.5-8 respectively, encouraged renewed buying of representative industrials. U. S. Steel more than recovered its early loss and moved above 23-8. There were sharp recessions in a number of minor specialties, including Kayser pfd., which broke 3 points to a 1924 low at 82 but soon the entire list was tending upward on increased dealings. Weakness continued, however, in Pierce Oil pfd. as a result of receivership proceedings. General sentiment was helped by the success of the Dawes plan in the German elections and by progress made in the reparations conferences.

Foreign exchanges opened success

NEW YORK COTTON.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 5.—The cotton market was easier during today's early trading, owing to relatively easy Liverpool cables and reports of good weather in the south over Sunday. The opening was steady but first prices were 15 to 30 points lower and active months soon showed net losses of 30 to 45 points under commission house liquidation and local and southern selling. May declined to 29.25 and October to 23.88 in the early trading.

Private cables reported a very quiet market in Liverpool with prices easier under trade selling of near months but that the continent was buying new crop deliveries.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, May 5.—The cotton market opened easier in keeping with rather poor Liverpool cables and continued good weather over Sunday. First trades showed losses of 19 to 22 points. The market continued to ease off after the start until July traded as low as 27.05, October at 23.15 and December at 22.90 or 44.42 and 31 points respectively under Saturday's close. The market then became steadier, awaiting the posting of the weather map. Sentiment was bearish but the disposition to sell was held in check by the premium of spots over futures.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon.)
NEW YORK, May 5.—If you follow business conditions you certainly find nothing this morning to entice about. Business slackened and that is all there is to it. Picturing it as temporary and unnecessary and psychological doesn't change the fact. How long this condition will continue I don't know. I don't think any one knows. It will run its course and then change just as it always did before.

The logical thing for the stock market to do would be to decline. If it doesn't it will be because it has already declined to a sufficient extent. And besides this we have a short interest and I think it is entirely too large and may result in a market movement contrary to the trend of business—and advance sufficient in extent to correct this condition.

The REFEREE

BY ALBERT APPLE.

FUTILE?
Nature never fails. She is forever tearing down in one place and building up in another, the two activities balancing.
Water, falling from the clouds and working its way back to the sea, wears down mountains and carries along with it the best soil of the plains along with it to the ocean.
Dr. Lewis M. Haupt says in a speech that sand is filling up some American harbors and channels faster than it can be removed by dredging. The purpose probably is to compel man to keep on working. Most of our progress is the result of trying to dodge work or make it easier.

3500
Since our republic was founded, more than 3500 schemes to amend the constitution have been introduced in Congress. The figure is supplied by Professor Henry V. Ames, able authority.
The framers of the constitution overlooked a lot of bets. They naturally failed to provide many things not needed at the time but absolutely necessary now. They made the constitution extremely difficult to amend. Was that better than making it too easy to adjust?

CHANGED
Our national constitution was provided during a period when most work was done by hand, there being little machinery.
Invention has revolutionized our ways of living. And most constitutional changes are the result of mechanical invention. Prohibition, for instance, was brought about primarily to make people work more. Child labor, the great evil leading to a constitutional amendment to abolish it as we long since abolished negro slavery, is an outgrowth of the machine age. Politics follows industry.

INADEQUATE
Traffic experts say that within 10 years the railroads will be handling a third more freight and a fourth more passengers than now.
The most gigantic achievement proves inadequate before it is completed. Our transportation system, for instance, has advanced to the point where the railroads in a year move 38 billion passengers one mile and haul 457 billion tons of freight one mile. To do all this requires tremendous power and organization. Yet the railroads increasingly become more of a problem.
Industry in general is growing faster than man can control it. Hence its many evils.

FLYING
America is lagging behind all leading European countries in flying, according to speakers at an aviation banquet.
Major Hensley, commandant at Mitchell Field, says: "According to present indications, before 1927 we will have nothing to fly with."
If this is so, it's a dangerous blunder. A nation's first line of defense in future wars will be the air. France will be able to hang onto the Ruhr as long as she has supremacy with planes.

ARTIFICIAL
Famine or over-production of food will be impossible later, for chemists will produce all food artificially in their laboratories. So claims a speaker before American Chemical Society.
This is Big Talk. It sounds good, but there nevertheless will always be farmers tilling the soil. Synthetic food, however, would be an excellent substitute during famines.

Muscle Shoals for 50 years at minimum guaranty of $120,000,000.
Frozen assets consisting mainly of mortgages in Montana and North Dakota forced closing of Capital Trust and Savings Bank of St. Paul with deposits of $5,000,000.

Rutland Railroad 1923 net $462,98 or $5.18 a share on pfd. against $153,036 or 1.70 a share in 1922.
Average price twenty industrials 91.93, up .25 twenty rails $1.51 up .03 forty bonds $8.40, off .03.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

A Welcome Member of the Family

A MOTOR car is never more appreciated than in the springtime. Its convenience and enjoyment are shared by all the family—and by speeding up the day's work, it provides more time for recreation.

A Ford Touring Car becomes a welcome member of the family. It provides every motor car essential at the lowest price for which a five passenger car has ever sold—a price only made possible by complete manufacture, in tremendous volume, in the largest and most economically operated plants in the automobile industry.

By controlling every step in manufacture, from the mining of the ore to delivery of the finished car, Ford eliminates waste and reduces vital costs to a minimum. One profit is made—hundreds are saved.

This efficiency of manufacture is accurately reflected in the quality and price of the Ford Touring car.
